SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., May 30 .- If anybody in Sunshine Valley

Over Catless

ever said anything derogatory of cats, it is safe to say that he humbly retracts it now and begs to express his profound regret. For, because of cat famine, Sunshine Valley, a pretty hamlet of about 100 population, is overrun with rats and mice. Hundreds of dollars' worth of wheat, oats, corn and rye has been destroyed and the raids on stored meats and vegetables have been costly. Traps have been used with only moderate success. The good old reliable house cat offers the only hope. There used to be cats in Sunshine Valley, but owners, moved by a simultaneous impulse apparently, disposed of their pets. Then came the pests, with the feline guard gone, and the losses suffered have been alarming. The few cats still left in Sunshine Valley are watched with jealous care, and their owners are mportuned for loans. Everett Kimble, one of the lucky ones, has had so many entreaties for his that he has had to resort to the use of numbered checks, so that applicants will get the cat in the right order. 16, and 17 is being arranged by the finance committee of the Women's City Club. All members interested are asked to attend a ing in the board room, Tuesday, May Washington until the latter part of 31, at 8 p. m. The house committee has assumed charge of the refreshment booth, as well as the soda fourtain in the garden, and the membership committee will have charge of the candy booth. Mrs. Nina Allender and Miss Aline Solomons will have general charge of the decorations as well as the posters. Mrs. R. O. Jones will arrange a dance each evening. The committee on District of Columbia suffrage will attend to those wishing to play cards as plain and fancy, may be found. The entertainment committee promises many surprises, as does Mrs. Latimer who will have charge of the art galery. The committee on public relief viil take charge of the White Elephant stand. The garden decorations will be under the direct charge of Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, who is planning. among other things, soap bubbles for the young folks, little and big. Miss Marie K. Saunders will have charge of a corps of fortune tellers, two booths being provided for this pop-ular pastime. The president, Mrs. Ly-man B. Swormstedt, takes charge of the fancy tables. Among the booths not yet assigned are china and glass, sport hats, tulip beds, fish pond and walking grab bags.

This is to be a week of special interest at the Arts Club, which is closing the most successful season of its history. Mrs. Helen Corbin Heinl will give a piano recital this evening, assisted by Ernest Lent on he 'cello. The final performance of the season will be presented by the Arts Club Players, Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

At the regular club dinner, on Thursday, Col Charles L. Frailey ture on "The Body and Soul of a Violin," illustrating his remarks on the chairs. aluable instruments from his own ollection. Henry K. Bernard F. Cecire, Poughkeepsie attorney, handed up to Supreme Court Justice A. F. H. Seeger, there came today from four sources other facts concerning White and his bride of five weeks.

According to Cecire the complaint related how Miss Simon had married White in Paris on April 21 after a swift courtship. She, the daughter of Elrath, but could add little to it, due Marcel Simon, once wealthy resident sor motor works in Paris, was in-shrugged her shoulders, smiled and troduced to White at a bazzar in said: Paris.
